December Spiritual Practice: Generosity

Generosity is often connected with financial giving, but there are many other ways to engage with this faith practice. This week, consider being generous in your thoughts towards people. Intentionally look for the image of God in others: your family, your friends, your faves, and even your foes. Choose to make generous assumptions about another's motive or mindset. Believe the best rather than assume the worst! Replace your critical thoughts with curiosity and a generous mindset.
